COMMISSION PAMPHLETS "CON PEOPLE"

— Grant accuses housing body

Altona Council has refused to let the Housing Commission distribute pamphlets promoting the commission's Paisley housing estate.

"After over-riding our requests they're going to try and con the people into accepting their project", Cr. Doug Grant told last week's council meeting.

Mr. Grant was supporting a motion by Cr. Les Crofts that council inform the Housing Commission of its objection to the proposal to distribute leaflets.

"We realise that people who cannot provide their own housing must have housing provided for them", said Cr. Grant.

"But while the commission's model of the proposed estate looks very nice, I disagree with the facet of four storey buildings.

"And I well remember the comments of some councillors when first we were told the estate would house 5000 people. Now we find that it will in fact accommodate 8000.

"I am hesitant to believe what the Housing Commission are going to come up with next.

"In our discussions with the commission they have never been willing to commit themselves in any way," said Cr. Grant.

"I agree wholeheartedly with Cr. Crofts that we do not go along with their proposal to circulate pamphlets."

Cr. Pat Lynch said: "I'm afraid it's a case of the midgits against the heavyweights — local government against the State Government.

"But nevertheless we've got to do everything in our power to get a better deal for the ratepayers."

Cr. Lynch was endorsing comments by Cr. Les Crofts.

Cr. Crofts said, "Council has engaged Dr. F. Ledger, Professor of Town and Regional Planning at Melbourne University, to act as a consultant on this matter.

"We agree wholeheartedly with his report but not with the commission's criticisms of it," he said.

"We should know the needs of the people in our community better than a bureaucratic body like the Housing Commission.

Cr. Crofts continued: "I think we should have a greater say about what is good for us. Local Government has a record second to none.

"But far too often we are overlooked and in this case at a time when the Housing Commission is building in Altona.

"We have a proposition to place 8000 people at Altona North — a city within a city. Council would have preferred to develop this area itself. And although the commission have shown some imagination they have not been fair to the people who will occupy these flats.

"We are going to have many problems unless the commission abides with our requests.

"Council is not opposed to the project but it would like its comments and Dr. Ledger's considered.

"We want to ensure that the amenity of the area is not adversely affected and to guaranteed people in the surrounding area that they will not be inconvenienced," continued Cr. Crofts.

"Council is footing the bill for a $500,000 to $750,000 swimming pool which will be built on the P. J. Lynch Reserve, opposite the housing estate.

"Facilities like this must be made available before people move into the estate. I would like to see a partnership between council and the commission.

"The Government are shirking their responsibilities and only paying lip service by not agreeing to our requests."

Cr. Crofts successfully moved that council permit the commission to exhibit plans and models of the estate in the civic offices from Tuesday, May 22, and that the exhibition be opened with a press conference. But he objected to council giving any approval for the commission to distribute pamphlets. The motion was unopposed.

Government land plan unrealistic : mayor

The State Government may have to think twice about providing cheap land for needy families if it intends to use a 700-acre site in the Truganina Reserve area of Altona for this purpose.

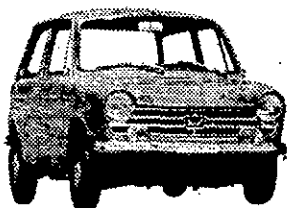

A proposal to make 3500 home sites available at $2500 each, has been described as "unrealistic" by Altona's mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver.

Cr. Weaver was commenting on a story which appeared in a daily newspaper during the weekend.

The newspaper reported that the Government was considering re-introducing land ballots for needy families as a joint venture with big land developer Hanover Holdings Ltd.

Val's Column

Hello Girls,
Wow! Things are always happening with us and make-up girls!

Firstly, Miner's and their face shockers: I must admit, the colors were for the young mod. and darling. But now here are some we can all try.

Nice n' Naturals by Revlon's Natural Wonder range. It is to give you the look and color of the moment. Vivid sophisticated and bright, clean color around your eyes and a natural soft cheek color is a must.

To achieve this innovative color of the eye — two products will be utilised — powder shadows and eyeshine stick in similar toning. Balance of two or three colors in a vertical way show great interest to your whole outfit girls. You can blend Periwinkle Blue, Fern, Sky, Violet, Peat Brown in powder shadows or in Shadow Sticks in the nicest ways.

A bit timid? Try two together — vertically first of all. Don't forget a colored mascara is a great success here too.

The powder shadow is used for the main, while the stick in the same color accents various areas of your eyes. The Peat Brown is an added color for those of you who want a more "dramatic" look. Apply this first, then colors over it.

Highlighting your cheekbones give a winter well scrubbed healthy appearance girls. Blush and Shine by Coty is a wonderful two-in-one innovation — Blush and Shine is a blusher gloss within a creamy blusher in one circular mirrored compact. Come ask the assistants here to show you the colors, the tester is for you to use to get the effect.

While you are with us, look up Miner's Eastern Oils. Yes, at last, in Altona and Newport Miner's range of perfume oils — pure individual fragrances in oil form.

Use one, or blend two or three to find your own personal blend. Mix a little with your perfumes.

Choose from Mandarin — a citrus oil. Patchouli — incredibly long lasting oil. Jasmine — flowers picked at dawn. Sandalwood — from the wood of Sandalwood trees. Verbena — a cool citrus type aroma. Musk — a good mixer, makes your fragrances last so much longer and brings out the best in you.

JUNIOR COUNCIL MEETING

Altona Junior Council recently met for the 72nd time since its formation, Cr. Pat Lynch told last week's meeting of council. More than 80 students attended the meeting and the main point raised was lack of street lighting in some of Altona's smaller streets and roads. Altona Council is currently reviewing the situation.

Mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver told Cr. Lynch: "At a recent committee meeting we discussed the problem of nature strip trees blocking lighting. We will certainly not be chopping down any trees but we may be able to rearrange the position of some lights," he said.

For almost a fortnight, Altona Council did not receive a single pollution complaint recently. From the period, April 16 to April 29 no complaints were recorded, Cr. Doug Grant reported last week. Cr. Grant holds council's environment portfolio.

Altona's mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver, said at last week's council meeting he was pleased to see the Finnish Society had made its headquarters at the former Red Robin factory in Pier Street. The society has renovated the building to use it for church and social activities. Recently Cr. Doug Grant deputised for Cr. Weaver to attend the society's athletics days at Altona North High School on Good Friday, when the Finnish ambassador was present.

Guests at last week's council meeting included Altona North High student, Manfred Rockhampter, winner of the Australian junior javelin title and nine members of Little Athletics who were successful in the recent association championships. They attended the meeting with their parents and principal executives of the club and member clubs. Manfred and the Little Athletics members were all presented with certificates of merit from the City of Altona, by the Mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver.

Introducing Manfred to the council, Cr. Ray Richards said in Western Australia, the Altona North student had thrown the javelin a distance of 211 feet. "He should go a long way in sport and perhaps one day he will represent Altona and Australia," said Cr. Richards.

Altona Council will review its policy on street stalls in committee, following a request by the Lions Club of Altona ladies' auxiliary to conduct a stall in Pier Street in October. In the past some stalls have proved to be an embarrassment to council's traffic officer. Council has deferred decision on the auxiliary's request until the policy has been reviewed.

MOTHER'S DAY SURPRISE

It was certainly Mother's Day at Altona District Hospital last Sunday, when members of the hospital's Ladies' Auxiliary took little gifts around to the mothers of new arrivals.

Mrs. Alma Baldrey of Merritt Court, Altona, is pictured with her baby, Alison and (from left) president of the ladies' auxiliary, Mrs. June Crofts and vice-president, Mrs. Dulcie Shaw.

TWO NUISANCE NOTICES SERVED

Two drainage nuisances occurred in Altona during the Easter Break, Senior Health Inspector, Mr. John Russell told Altona Council last week.

Mr. Russell said one resulted in the serving of a "Nuisance Notice" under the Health Act, after the owner refused to place an insanitary septic system in working order. The notice was compiled within the 24 hours given, he said.

The second nuisance was a blocked and insanitary drain from a detached toilet block at the rear of a large shop and office block in Pier Street. Mr. Russell told council the owners had been instructed to connect to the Board of Works sewer in the rear laneway.

On other activities, Mr. Russell reported issuing five septic tank desludging permits, passing four septic tank installations and inspecting three storm and sullage water drains.

The police spokesman alleged the man produced a police visiting card as later this month.

Following the national wage decision, council will have to find an additional $37,000 yearly, in wages and salaries for its 150 employees. Indirect cost through materials and other forms of supply will also require additional finance.

In its budget for the current financial year, council anticipated this increase and financial reports show that we are operating within that budget.

Street lighting — costs increase:

The SEC has announced an increase in street lighting tariffs, effective from July 1. The increase will cost council an extra $6360 yearly.

Land plan is 'unrealistic'

According to Cr. Weaver, Hanover's submission stating that the blocks could be sold for $2500 each is misleading.

"I don't know how they arrived at that figure", he said.

"The land being considered needs about six feet of filling and this alone would cost about $1000 a block. Add to this roads and footpaths at the cost of $1200 a block and water and sewerage at a further $1500 a block and that itself totals $3700 a block without land values taken into consideration.

"I must agree that what the Government and Hanover Holdings have in mind is much needed to offset the lop-sided growth of Melbourne, but I would not like to see more than 75 per cent. of this land developed along the lines suggested by the developers," said Cr. Weaver.

"The other 25 per cent. could then be developed as a Venice type project along the lines of Surfers' Paradise. In this way some blocks could be kept down to a price of around $5000 while the beach frontage blocks in the Truganina area could sell for around $15,000."

Cr. Weaver said that despite his comments, the plan would be a good one if it did eventuate but heavy subsidy would be needed, if the blocks were to be sold at the suggested price.

"He said Altona Council had not been approached on the matter.

Hanover has already finalised details of the project and these are now being studied by senior government officials.

The scheme provides for 330 acres of Hanover land and 400 acres of State-owned land to be developed jointly.

Sir, — Some dealers are urging the Federal Government to repeal the Act banning the export of Australian wild life.

It is plausibly stated that smuggling increases the cruelty in this flesh and blood trade.

Can anyone believe that those who prey on defenceless creatures by trapping, ensnaring and depriving them of their only treasures — life and liberty, would care about degrees of cruelty, or could have truth or honest labor attributed to them?

The truth is that the threat of bombs and hijacking means more inspection of planes, persons and luggage, which renders smuggling more difficult and risky, resulting in less profit.

When there was no ban, tens of thousands of birds were exported.

As an average of nine

Save wildlife says Render out of ten failed to survive the indescribable terror and cruelty of trapping, the land was being denuded of our unique creatures.

Years ago, bird observers including Graham Pizzey, said over fifty species were lost.

More havoc occurs at the Lake Pedder and the Victorian Government is ravaging forest land with 1080.

The rabbit lives (why not in the forest?) and rare creatures die.

"Wild life gives pleasure, serves a useful purpose and in its family life is an example of the human race. Only the hand of the tyrant would deny lowly creatures their lives.

If the act were repealed, multitudes would go. Flora and fauna are the heritage of the nation and succeeding generations.

All life is unified, each dependent on the other — nature left alone keeps a perfect balance.

In destruction lies the seed of destruction. If we continue in our selfish way, eminent scientists say we shall be included in the reaping.

Common sense should compel the prevention of the irretrievable and leave to nature what belongs to nature.

"Some companies are now causing me concern"

HEALTH INSPECTOR SAYS

POLLUTION IS HERE TO STAY

There will always be some pollution in Altona, because the petro-chemical industries could not operate without discharging gases, Altona's health inspector, Mr. John Russell said on Friday.

Mr. Russell, appointed in December last year, is senior health inspector, responsible for reporting to council on all matters relating to the environment, water, noise, air pollution and drainage.

"It's difficult to prove the existence of offensive odors in court evidence," he said.

"Some companies are rather see some action being taken to remedy a problem than legal action being taken against the company."

Residents contact Mr. Russell with pollution complaints, which he reports to the Environment Protection Authority after inspecting them and interviewing officers of companies which have caused the pollution.

"When the problem is pinpointed, the company does its best to alleviate it."

INEVITABLE

"The same thing never seems to happen in the same position," he said.

"A boiler fan might go in one place and a power failure may happen in another. Bad pollution usually means a breakdown somewhere. It's inevitable that malfunctions do occur in companies of the size we have in Altona."

Mr. Russell said he'd rather see some action being taken to remedy a problem than legal action being taken against the company.

Mr. Russell talked about the Altona Pollution Committee, comprising council officers and senior officers of various industries.

"They outline to council what moves they have made or propose to make to cut down pollution. Many of their plans are long-term and the results cannot be seen yet."

"I hope things will improve in time," he added.

"I've noticed a remarkable visual improvement in Kororoit Creek. Waste matter with toxic properties is not discharged, it is first treated with bacteria."

Before becoming a health inspector, Mr. Russell did a six-year apprenticeship as a plumber and drainlayer.

"I saw a need to become fully acquainted with industrial processes, so I studied for a public health inspector's diploma, a smoke inspector's diploma, and the diploma of air pollution control."

AFTER HOURS

Before coming to Altona, Mr. Russell was chief health inspector at One Tree Hill Borough, New Zealand.

He said general noise complaints relating to industrial sources were investigated even after hours.

The council now had a 24-hour-a-day answering service available on a seven-days-per-week basis.

The phone number for this service is 63 3968. Service and emergency calls will receive immediate attention by contact with the appropriate duty officer.

HBA CONTRIBUTORS

please note
increased benefits, increased contributions.

NURSING HOME BENEFITS

By authority of the Victorian Government a new Approved Nursing Home Benefit is available to all HBA Contributors from January 1, 1973.

This benefit covers payment of up to $22.40 per week, to non-Pensioner Medical Service patients in Approved Nursing Homes, for an unlimited period of time.

To permit the provision of this new benefit, the contribution rate for Hospital Benefits has been increased by 3 cents per week for a single person and 6 cents per week for a family, to be paid from May 1973.

MEDICAL BENEFITS

Also from May 1, by authority of the Federal Minister of Social Security, weekly contributions for medical benefits will be increased by 10 cents per week for a single person, 20 cents per week for a family.

This increase is essential, as payments to Contributors, plus administration, has exceeded Contributions by over $9 million since July 1 1969, and as at this date the Medical Fund has an accumulated deficit of approximately $4 million. There are now no Reserves in the Medical Fund.

Victory thrills 'Gulls' leaders

Captain-coach Barry Gill was elated after Williamstown's first victory of the season last Sunday.

"I was very pleased. We went extremely well," he said.

"I thought we were in trouble kicking against the breeze after fading in the third quarter but teamwork made all the difference."

President Norm Bernard echoed Gill's remarks. "To get up and win against a four goal wind was a gutsy effort. It was encouraging," the president said.

Secretary, John Grieve, said: "It's just what we've needed all season. We teamed together."

CYMS SURVIVES LATE BATTERING TO BEAT GIANTS

Williamstown CYMS Football Club's senior side withstood a bold last-quarter comeback at the weekend to hand out the first defeat of the season to South Melbourne.

The team from across the river started with a smart attack and used handball to advantage to stack up early goals.

But Williamstown fought back as the first term progressed, and would have taken the lead had it not been for inaccurate kicking.

At the first change, South had a three point lead.

Then came the change. With ruckmen winning and the forwards dominating play, Williamstown surged ahead.

For the first time this season, CYMS players talked to each other, operated as a team and used handball to advantage.

The Williamstown half back line was well on top throughout the second term and prevented South from taking the initiative.

At half-time the scores were:

WILLIAMSTOWN 8.11 (59)

SOUTH MELBOURNE 5.4 (34)

At the start of the third quarter, Williamstown maintained and even slightly increased their advantage.

South tried hard to get back into the match but were frustrated at every move by stronger play from the Williamstown back line, sitting well on top of the opposition.

The final quarter saw Williamstown defending almost constantly.

Hit by injuries and tiring badly, Williamstown were beaten in many positions.

It is to their credit they did not panic.

The back line men kept forcing their opposition into error.

South nudged nearer and nearer to Williamstown's score and with five minutes to go, Williamstown held only a tottering seven point lead.

But they tended toward the goals and the siren saw the score at:

WILLIAMSTOWN 13.15 (93)

SOUTH MELBOURNE 11.13 (79)

Williamstown Goals: R. Wendt 3, J. Rollason, W. Dean, J. Murphy 2; P. Van Der Werf, W. Rosenzweig, A. Boddington, R. Taylor.

Williamstown Best: J. Zamykal, R. Carvana, Mark Buckley, R. Featherston, G. Skelton, J. Zamykal.

Reserves

Although well beaten by second side, West Ivanhoe, all Williamstown CYMS reserve players showed great determination.

Hit by injuries and unavailable players, Williamstown started badly and had only three goals on the board at half time.

But the second half saw Williamstown come back strongly, as players battled to use teamwork as a defence to the general lack of height in their side.

Their finished with only 16 players — and despite this were able to outscore the opposition in the last term.

It was a creditable performance.

Final scores:

WILLIAMSTOWN 9.4 (58)

WEST IVANHOE 18.13 (121)

Williamstown Best: R. Zamykal, R. Carvana, Mark Buckley, R. Featherston, G. Skelton, J. Zamykal.
